

Abstract

A method of operating a membership club with an increasing number of benefits and amenities, featuring the Right to Use Vacation Interest affiliated resort apartment via an exchange organization using a computer. The apartment will increase in size and, based 10 on member seniority, the length of the stay increases as well. Expenses are sharply reduced by the inapplicability of State timeshare laws; no need for deeds, mortgages or trust deeds; no notes or other form of personal liability; the members right to terminate at will without any form of debt; and finally no need for “hard sell tactics”.
